From the Editor:

May 20, 1942

Recording college life can be done in as many ways as there are leaves on a tree or sands on a beach. To the staff of the Burr came the realization of doing the recording as graphic, as objective, and as sentimental as possible—all at the same time.

For college life—according to this type of pictorial reporting—should be pictured by camera and film alone.

Discounting the hours of mid-night toil—the writing, photography, organization, editorial and technical work involved, including printing and engraving,—it has been an inward sense of pleasure in seeing pages materialize into sections of life set away for posterity.

But on the whole, the '42 Burr represents the idea of the editor—in that pictures were taken to reflect the personality of the individual or the object before the lens.

These accomplishments—such as they are—are not new. The principle is as tried as the new approach to the role of the camera. As Lewis Mumford would have it, "the photograph should clarify the object." The Burr in relation to college life cannot be as objective, for tradition says we must remember with nostalgia and preserve with dignity.

In the final analysis yearbooks go on being produced, for this is only one snatch, one part of the great expanse of time and space.

Our nation at war touches the Burr as well—a yearbook is the reflector of university life. Practically, the tools of our work—printing, engraving and covers, became, by necessity, scarce and the final work is a bit less than originally planned. But we would rather have it so.

One and all, however, here is the '42 Chestnut Burr, as it is—

THE PRESIDENT

Entering Kent State University with the class of '42, President Karl C. Leebrick has been "one of the boys" to the senior students, who have watched his progress as keenly as he has been observant of theirs.

In his four years at Kent State, President Leebrick has led the University in many advances in every department. He can look back upon his four years here as 48 months of continuous improvement.

The outbreak of war with Japan on December 7, 1941, was not too unexpected by Dr. Leebrick, who became well aware of the background and political intrigue of the far-Eastern stage while at the University of Hawaii, where he was head of the department of political science.

At Hawaii, he gained a reputation as an expert on international affairs, being particularly well versed on the culture and governmental operation of Japan.

Together with Dr. Rufus von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, Dr. Leebrick was one of the co-founders of the Institute of Pacific Relations.

It was while he was attending a meeting of the institute in California that war broke out. At the time, Dame Rumor had it that Dr. Leebrick had been offered the presidency of the University of Hawaii, but the President quickly denied the report.

Young, as university presidents go, Dr. Leebrick will not celebrate his 57th birthday until October 20, 1942.

He came to Kent State from Syracuse University, where he was dean of the college of liberal arts. He earned his Ph.D. degree at the University of California.

*I*N THE fall a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of . . . school.

When September rolls around, the boys and girls begin their process of gaining a higher education.

The freshman makes a firm resolve to spend all his leisure time cracking the books. The sophomore resolves not to break his freshman resolution. The junior knows better than to make any resolutions, and the senior rides along on his reputation.

Before anyone can settle down to a strictly budgeted semester, the whirl of social and extra-curricular activities sweeps the student away.

Even before the new professors' names could be memorized, the freshmen were battling the sophomores and raising the flag of '45.

Athletics then began to take its share of the men, the football players getting their first taste of action on the new varsity field.

Politics, too, snared many. Biggest political event outside of the annual elections was the resignation of the Kappa Sigma Chi fraternity from the Greek party.

The fall of '41 was noteworthy for many things which gained Kent State University prominence. The first student broadcast was made from KSRW, Student council drafted a new constitution; delegates from three states met here for the Ohio Valley International Relations Club Conference.

Eight-hundred people were present at the annual Sadie Hawkins Day dance; Dr. Catherine MacGregor was elected Pigskin Prom Queen by the football players.

Priorities began edging their way into the campus scheme; the Penny drive was renewed so that men in the service could receive copies of the Stater, Duchess, and Chestnut Burr; a large crowd attended the Messiah.

Basketball began creeping into the spotlight; the administration began to think of ways and means of figuring out credit for men drafted.

And last, but far from least, war was declared.

. . . In the Fall

A cute quintet arrives only to be lost in the impregnable registration lines the following day. Stop 14 muddles Sam Gordon, Marge Stepfield, Jane McDowell, Bob Kitchingmon and Bill Kellerman inking a few thousand lines. Jeanne Marie Jahnston stumps Sociology's Long while Merle Wagoner becomes the man of the hour-cards.

IT ALL BEGINS

WITH REGISTRATION

The whirl of campus life begins registration day when the freshman girl from Massachusetts meets the freshman boy from Virginia. Everybody says hello to everybody else and lifetime friendships get their start.

This year, after a previous steady rise, the enrollment hit a slump. The draft and the opportunity to gain high wages in defense employment were the two factors causing registration to hit a low-water mark of 2,215 students.

President Leebrick at the first assembly told students that they were privileged to be attending a university in the time of general world conflict.

Recognizing the seriousness of the world situation, the administration made it possible to take many courses closely allied to defense, the curriculum of the department of industrial arts being vastly enlarged.

By the time Freddie Freshman had gone through all the rigamarole and red tape of standing in line, getting his program card okayed, and paying his fees he was all set to settle down and work for those A's.

Freshmen tussle over registration while a group of Tri-Sigs seek information from Dr. Foster.

The endless lines file past sober looking Sociologist Preston.

Lossies from Englemon seek a rest period between loads.

Getting the physical checkup is must for all new students.

Midge Kincaid and Moybelle Anglemeyer give the going over to a delightful prospect.

Most important desk at registration is the information center. Below the Freshmen do the duty while the appealing noddle stands by.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA

For the second consecutive year, Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority listed more names than any other on the campus, and for the third time they led all other sororities in pledging.

In campus-wide competition they won the Duchess cup, tied for first place in the Pork Barrel, and, led by Marge Wedding, rallied themselves into first place in the bowling tourney. Last spring they won the Rowboat Regatta.

Individual headliners in this year's activities were Betty Bowles, president of Pan-Hellenic League and Phi Alpha Theta; Jean Hungerford, voted honorary sponsor of the Journalism house; Jane Higgins, member of student council; Coy McGowan, president of Zeta Iota and historian of Cardinal Key; Marge Wedding and Betty Morris, officers in Women's League.

Sorority activities included a winter and spring formal, pledge dance, formal dinners at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Also, at Christmas, the active chapter presented the house with a new silver tea set inscribed with the sorority emblem. The rushing season was highlighted by a formal rush party styled as Coconut Grove, and an informal gathering at Reed's cottage.

National sorority events saw the Tri-Sigs sending representatives to the regional convention, holding the annual Founders Day dinner May 19, and playing hostess to the national president, Mabel Lee Walton.

After the Round Robin tea, Beta Gamma sorority opened the social season with the traditional Monte Carlo rush party. The first dance of the season was a Sports Swagger at Twin Lakes, followed in December by the Christmos formal. The pledges entertained their active sisters with the usual Lollipop dance, carried out in the true style of a kids' party.

With memories, accented by perfume as a theme, the Beta Gams won the Homecoming cup for house decorations. This is the second year in a row that this honor has been taken by the sorority.

Basketball laurels were added when the team, led by Hazel Kelly, took first place in intramural competition. Continuing with their varied activities, the bridge team placed second in the Pan-Hellenic league bridge tournament.

Members of this sorority can be found in almost every school activity, including Cardinal Key, Women's League, Sociology club, Biology club, Home Economics club, Psi Chi, and Kappa Delta Pi. Betty Chapman is president of Women's League and was listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges."

The Mothers' club was organized officially this year, and they, together with the Alumni association, gave a series of parties.

ALPHA OMEGA

Led by president Cornelia Kuchenbacker, Alpha Omega sorority climaxed this year's activities by counting three queenships among their members.

Betty Keller, a pledge, received the vote of the students in the fall to become the Homecoming Queen. Betty Jane Leadenham, also by popular vote, was elected Miss Kent State, and Ruth Erricsan was selected by the Burr staff as the yearbook queen.

Adding to individual and sorority laurels, Marguerite Cook outsmiled her opponents and took the title of Daisy Mae at the annual Sadie Hawkins Day dance.

The sorority, as a whole, was very active, winning last spring's Campus Night sing, this year's Theatre cup, and tying with two other sororities for first place in the Park Barrel.

However, perhaps the most important event is the All-Greek dance given for all sorority and fraternity members. This is the most elaborate pledge presentation on the campus.

In sports, the AO's led in the participation of members, with 30% taking part.

Service to the school was stressed, Jane Doak and Marge Hunt, being Cardinal Key members. Jane Doak was also chairman of the Big Sister-Little Sister tea. During the football season, Monetta Croakman strutted down the field as a drum majorette.

Entertaining at their home on Main street, the Alpha Omegas gave a Valentine party and a buffet supper for their sponsors.

Myra Hilsinger, Marguerite Caak, Roberta Petty, Ruth Loesch, Marian Zupan, Jean Phister, Miriam Glass, Gladys Gardener.

Marguerite McLaughlin, Francis Fulmer, Darathy Schraner, Mary Hadsell, Theta Miller, Jaanne Paesse, Betty J. Patterson, Marguerite Kemp.

GAMMA SIGMA PHI

Featuring Defense work this year, the girls of Gamma Sigma Phi baked birthday cakes and sent them to men in the service, and also had charge of the Red Cross knitting.

The social season was started by a Russian rush party and followed by bridge parties, teas, suppers, and dances. The Goldiggers Ball was the biggest event on the social calendar. For that dance the girls turned the tables on the boys, sent them car-sages, called for them, and had a grand time playing host for the evening.

For the second year in a row the same bridge team of Mary Jane O'Brien, Mary Hazen, Martha Harper, and Peggy Fike won the Pan-Hell bridge trophy. Along with two other sarorities, they tied for first place in the Pork Barrel.

The Gamma Sigs claim Mary Hazen, chosen the sweetheart of Kappa Sigma Chi by Glen Gray, and Dorothy Stark, Duchess Phizz girl picked by Glenn Miller. Mary Jane O'Brien and Hope Byrne were members of Cardinal Key and Hope was also a member of student council. Lindy Barch was editor of the Duchess and president of Lambda Phi, women's journalism honorary.

THETA SIGMA UPSILON

National activities were in order this year for Theta Sigma Upsilon, national educational sorority. These were climaxed by the annual Founder's Day dinner in Morch. The national secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Alden, is an alumni of the Kent chapter, and she gave a detailed report of the founding of the sorority, its activities, and social functions at the banquet. At that time the pledges were introduced to the alumni and the patrons.

The sorority is national in scope, with chapters in the leading teachers' colleges. At the present time there are 20 chapters, with two of them just recently organized.

The chapter at Kent State has been especially active this year. Their rushing season was introduced with a Hallowe'en party. They have held parties for their patrons including Dr. and Mrs. Bongham, new this year. During the various holidays, the girls held dinners, teas, and parties. The pledges gave the actives a formal dance and the social event of the year was a dinner dance on May 29.

Individual honors go to Robin Keith who is the secretary of the junior class, and Jean Adams, treasurer of Pan-Hellenic League.

Elsie M. Gombert, Yvonne Harton, Charlene McFetridge, Helen Steiner, Marjorie Shriger, Earline Bosserman.

PI KAPPA SIGMA

After the Round Robin tea the Pi Kaps opened the social season with a Mexican Fiesta rush party, followed soon by their second scheduled party, an Evening in Paris.

The 16 members of this sorority emphasized service to the school, winning the University Theater cup, last year's Scholarship and Forensic cup. Again this year they have participated very actively in forensics. Alice O'Sickey is a member of the women's debate, and Lois Colley, Betty Combs, Jane Cowell, and Edith Ek participated in inter-mural debate.

Social events also received their share of attention. The Founder's Day banquet was held November 17. This celebrates the founding of the national sorority, and each chapter throughout the nation holds a dinner on the same date. The annual Christmas party was held at the Robin Hood, and both the winter and spring formals were held at the Colonial Inn.

Individual sorority members deserving recognition are Alice O'Sickey, student council member and vice-president of the senior class, and Louise Bjorson, secretary of the Elementary Education club.

Alpho Omega again received the starched nod of the University social circle when she sponsored the jounty All-Greek dance in honor of her pledge set. Annually the yearlings of the sorority ore trotted out and introduced to the fast set with which they will associate throughout their collegiate careers. It is one of the musts on social calendars and this year was staged in the blue room of the swanky Portage Country club

A tall quintet working on the beautiful Kappa Sigma Chi sweetheart song.

K DANCE

Gamma Pete Manyo and Kappa Mu Kappa's Bob Kitchingman do a little serenading of their own — the listening wasn't so intent

Part of the huge audience that listened intently as the different groups serenaded each other.

The above photo lists fifteen logical reasons for the dance. The yearlings as they made their debut. The affair, aside from its importance to the social set, has become one of the University's strongest traditions. This year, for the first time, the party was made invitational.

More than 300 couples danced at the 1941 All-Greek. The Portage Country club boasted an indoor soda bar for the event and the tables in the lounge rooms gave the club a glamorous nite-club atmosphere. Formals and tails swished on the floor, the music emphasized the sweet side and flash bulbs continued to flare at almost every moment.

All in all, the '41 All-Greek continued in its traditional success.

A throwback to the corner drugstore days shows Millie L'Estrange and Joe Henry double-stroking a waltz in premonition of the rationing. ALPHA PHI BETA

A large influx of new members and an equivalent rise in power has made Alpha Phi Beta one of the leading fraternities on campus.

The Betas have been tops in scholarship more often than any other fraternity, and possess members in Men's Union, Student council, and The Kent Stater. They are also active in athletics.

Dr. H. E. Stelson, one of the founders of the fraternity, was elected primarius for the 11th consecutive year.

Among the fraternity activities for the year included the Winter formal at Twin Lakes, the combination Founders Day-Pledge dance affair at Uniontown's Colonial Inn. The Spring Formal was held at Lake Forest.

Bill Cropley, Alpha Phi Beta president, also served on Interfraternity council and was a member of the Physical Science club. John Lemak, who gained fame as a band leader, was a member of Student council, until he left school early in April to join the service.

Clyde Friar was a member of Chi Pi, men's honorary journalism fraternity, and also wrestled for the freshmen against the varsity. Dick Clark, Beta president-elect, was president of Interfraternity council for the last year. Clark is a member of Student council and Men's Union executive committee.

Bill Robey was on Student council and Men's Union and Bill Mock played baseball and basketball.

DELTA PHI SIGMA

Perhaps Kent State's most athletic minded fraternity, Delta Phi Sigma has more varsity men in its ranks than any of the other fraternities.

But the Delts have not concentrated on athletics to the extent of neglecting their studies, possessing one of the highest fraternity point averages.

Events of the year included a Hobo Hop, Winter formal, Hijacker Frolic, Spring formal, hay ride, weiner roast, and Homecoming Sing.

In sports, varsity men were Ed Boyle, Dick Weigle, Ted Tucker, Joe Price, Don Blair, Earl Stewart, Joe LeChaix, basketball; Weigle, Tucker, Blair, Howard Mack, Tony Misko, Harmon Traxler, baseball; Mack, Lou Tath, Lowell Wetzel, Harry Kuzmenko, Misko,

Werner Dickson, Beery, and Tom Davis all participated on the gym team.

Organization presidents included Jim Griffin, Rifle club; Dick Foote, Men's Union; Prasse, Student council; Boyle, Varsity K, and Tucker, HPE club.

Foote served as vice-president of the business fraternity; Boyle as recording secretary of Blue Key and a member of the athletic policy committee, Len Hill as Interfraternity council secretary.

KAPPA MU KAPPA

Kappa Mu Kappa, Kent State's oldest fraternity, celebrated its 20th anniversary this year. Founded in 1922, KMK has always been a leader on campus and this year proved no exception.

The fraternity is active in Student council, class offices, dramatics, journalism, Men's Union, business, and boasts officers in many of the leading clubs.

Outstanding among Kappa Mu Kappa's activities for the last year was the winning of the Rowboat Regatta for the second consecutive season, winning the fraternity intramural championship, and taking first in the frat division of the Park Barrel.

Listed in the fraternity's personnel are Stan

Mouse and Bill Guisewite, originators of "No Time For Classes," and Charley Ayres, first semester editor of the Duchess and listed in "Who's Who," and four members of Blue Key, national service honorary.

KMK moved into a new house on Linden road this year and elected a "K May Kween" to officiate at the traditional pointing of their concrete K on the campus, south of Rockwell library.

Kappa Mu Kappa was well represented in the major sports. Bob Hein, Jack Britt, and Bill Gillies all earned football letters. Duane Hague won his "K" in wrestling. Gillies was on the tennis team, while Hein also won track and basketball letters.

KAPPA SIGMA CHI

Big things were recorded for Kappa Sigma Chi in 1942 as the fraternity began to take a much more prominent position in campus life.

Mary Hazen was crowned the third Sweetheart of Kappa Sigma Chi, chosen from a bevy of other sorority beauties by Glen Gray, of Casa Loma band fame. The blonde Gamma Sig was presented at the annual Sweetheart dance, held at the Portage hotel, Akron.

In politics, the Kappa Sigs became the first organization to withdraw from the Greek political party, coming out against the "underhanded politics." Their lead was soon followed by other Greek organizations.

Smokers, a pledge dance, and the Spring formal completed Kappa Sigma Chi's social slate after the Alumni banquet was held during Homecoming Week at the Kent Hotel. Many grads turned out for one of the most successful reunions in the fraternity's history.

At the beginning of the first semester, the Kappa Sigs changed their address, moving to a new home at 1003 Crain avenue.

The fraternity felt the pressure of the draft, losing several men to the army, including Jim Dedinsky and Kirk Lowry.

John Pentz and Walt Holms represented Kappa Sigma Chi on Interfraternity council. Holms was also a member of the varsity golf team.

PHI BETA PHI

Although still claiming the distinction of being the youngest fraternity on campus, Phi Beta Phi is recognized as a mature organization.

The group continued its high scholarship standards by taking the second Manchester Scholarship cup. In the spring, the Phi Betas won the Campus Night fraternity award. A new undertaking this year was a monthly newsletter to alumni in the armed forces.

PBP created a mild furor by withdrawing from the Greek political party. Keeping before the public eye, the house purchased a neon sign. Intramural participation was included in the sports program.

The members have been kept busy with outside affiliations. In journalism, Al Geitgey served as business manager of The Kent Stater, with Paul Brown and Ed Dreger assisting him.

Members of Delta Sigma Pi included Ned Miner, Geitgey, Bob Beckwith, Dreger; debate team, Beckwith and Dreger; University Theatre, Charles Piper; Commerce club, Dreger, Miner, Beckwith, Brown, Geitgey; social committee, Frank O'Brien, Beckwith. Brown and Geitgey represented Phi Beta Phi in Interfraternity council.

SIGMA TAU GAMMA

Only national educational fraternity on Kent State's campus, Sigma Tau Gamma this year entertained two officers of the national executive committee.

Socially, the Gammas were not left behind by any fraternity. The pledges presented the actives with a fine dance in Akron, to the music of Gil Crest, in the opening affair on the calendar. Many successful house parties were held and the reception for the alumni on Homecoming Day saw a good time had by all.

The fraternity roster reads like a roll call of campus favorites. Hal Martin was president of the senior class, a varsity football player, vice-president of Varsity K, master of the University Theatre, and Sigma Tau Gamma treasurer.

Three members were named in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Gamma names in the publication were those of Pete Manyo, Bob Seese, and Bob Mosher.

Manyo is a member of Delta Sigma Pi, University social committee, Men's Union executive committee, Newman club, and Commerce club.

Seese served as chairman of the Student Federation of America convention, held this year at Purdue. Mosher was a Student council member and was also president of Men's Union. Ed Zink, Gamma president, was president of the Senate, vice-president of Interfraternity council, and vice-president of Student council.

"Little Joe" is gone and Kent State University's coaches are going to have a tough time replacing their 150-pound package of dynamite.

Joe Mileski, the Burr's choice for "Outstanding Senior Athlete," this year climaxed three seasons of outstanding varsity competition when he left the University to join the armed forces of Uncle Sam's powerhouse team.

And the blow was a hard one to take. For three years, Mileski had been the mainstay of the grid squad, his passes and long, booming punts always keeping Golden Flash foes at bay.

On the baseball squad, the wavy-haired, five foot seven inch athlete carried out the famous sports quote, "Pitching is 75 per cent of a baseball team." Except that Joe was worth about 85 per cent. In his two years of varsity hurling he was victorious in eight straight games, losing only once, in his final mound appearance.

A home town boy, Mileski came to Kent State after being graduated from Kent Roosevelt high school, where he won seven varsity letters. He started playing football in high school, although he weighed only 115 pounds.

In his sophomore year at Kent State, he made the varsity football team, although he weighed only 135, being called the "world's lightest fullback."

Now, with his college career ended, "Little Joe" is pitching strikes and scrimmaging for his country. Joe Mileski has earned a salute from every sports fan at the University.

Grady Jackson travels around right end for a 13-yard gain.

It doesn't look like the Akron ball-carrier got very far on this play, with a host of Golden Flashes charging in for the tackle.

It looks like a great day for the Blue and Gold of Kent State as Joe Begala, football trainer, flashes a big victory smile.

The Golden Flashes' future fullback of 1954 finishes off an evening's workout by taking a piggy-back ride on poppa G. D. Storn, Kent State football mentor. Little George, Jr., is present at all University athletic contests and assists in the cheer-leading.

A new field was born velvety soft and green, new suits of slick rayon were passed out, a new scoring record went into the books, Harry Kuzmenko, whose tackles put one in mind of the invincible Jimmy Jones, was given all-Ohio mention — but that's about the extent of the gridiron sport at Kent State University for the year 1941.

The Army punched bigger holes in the Golden Flash line than all the opposition together could do when that long index finger of Uncle Sam's pointed toward Tommy Schenz, Dave Gantz, and Stan Drongowski, and caused them to exchange their blue and gold for Army drab. A great line was shattered and the greatest group of backs ever to assemble on Rockwell field found the going extremely tough.

Time and time again the fleet forms of Lowell Wetzell, Grady Jackson, Robert E. Lee Dutton, Bob Williams, Joe Fortunato, Hal Martin, and Joe Mileski flung themselves into a hole in the forward wall, only to find that it was imaginary.

Time and time again Head Coach G. Donald Starn thought of the line he had built for the Army, then gritted his teeth as an inexperienced lineman was trapped by the opposition. It was a gray-hair-year and the last we heard "Rosy" talk of the sport he was muttering something about six-man touch football.

A yearbook is something of a record and because of this we must run over the year. Everyone figured the best season in history when the Golden Flashes swamped Bluffton, 58-0, with a nine-touchdown barrage.

Visions of an undefeated, untied, and unscored upon record began appearing before the loyal fans when the Blue and Gold continued on its steamroller path, trouncing Findlay, 26-0, in a night game.

Joe Mileski was the hero of the contest, his booming punts and touchdown passes keeping Findlay on its heels throughout the four periods.

Although the Flashes were held scoreless in the first quarter, Kuzmenko turned the tide of battle when he blocked a Findlay punt on the Oilers' 12-yard line, Ralph Petros recovering on the one. Williams went over for the initial score on a plunge through center. Mike Feduniak's kick for the extra point was good.

A pass, Mileski to Wetzel, accounted for six more points. A two-touchdown third quarter drive was sparked by Mileski. Climaxing a 40-yard push, Mileski passed from the five to Grady Jackson over the goal line, raising the score to 19-0.

With the aerial attack functioning smoothly, Mileski uncorked another pass to Hal Martin, who had worked a "sleeper" on the unsuspecting Findlayites and raced 20 yards for the final score.

A long injury list attested to the valiant battle put up by the Flashes against the Case Rough Riders. Most serious blow was the loss of Lou Boffo, taken out with a broken leg.

For three quarters it was all Case, but in the last period Coach Starn's men had the Scientists with their backs to the wall. Accounting for one touchdown on a pass from Mileski to Jackson, the Flashes had the strong Case team worried, but time ran out before another touchdown thrust could be launched.

Case scored its touchdown on an end run by Bill Bennett on fourth down from the Kent State two-yard line, Bob Melreit's successful kick providing the extra point margin of victory, 7-6.

A surprise 0-0 tie with unheralded West Liberty State Teachers came next. Hurting much more than the pride Kent State had to swallow was the loss of Mileski, ace kicker and passer. Taken out early in the first quarter, it was discovered that Joe had a broken and sprained left wrist.

The score, 20-0, at Western Reserve did not tell the story of the game, which saw Kent State very much in the running all the way. The Red Cats scored in the first few minutes on a freak play. Bob Culp, Reserve halfback, fumbled the ball on the Kent State five. The ball rolled over the goal line and Bill DeWalt recovered in the end zone for six points.

The Cats' second touchdown came when Joe Fortunato fumbled and Joe Sponseller recovered for Reserve, running to a touchdown. The third marker came on a pass, the first six-pointer Western Reserve had to work for in the game.

Bowling Green came to town on Homecoming Day and a 13-yard pass from Captain Eddie Wellner to Wayne Bordner broke a 6-6 tie, leaving the Flashes on the short end of a 12-6 score.

John Carroll continued the parade of enemy victories with a 12-0 lacing and Akron U. finished off the miserable season with a 41-13 beating, Bennie Flossie running wild against the Flashes.

K.S.U. Marching Band...

Monetta Crookman, Ruth Altman, and Jean Chapman put local color into the marching by their high and fast stepping Uncorking some of the latest formations for field display, the Kent State university marching band entered the season with a flashy display of music and footwork.

Under the direction of Roy D. Metcalf, the band traveled to Reserve and Akron where they blacked the eye of the Red Cat and formed a gigantic U. S. A. stretching from one 30 yard line to the 20 yard marker at the other side of the field. At Akron, the high stepping bandmen unzipped the Zippers. At all home games the band featured originality and modern arrangements, doing special work at the Football for Defense half-time program.

H O M E C O M M I N G . . .

Streaming into Kent via rail, bus, and auto, hundreds of alumni found a full schedule arranged for their entertainment Homecoming Day.

Highlighting the program was the annual dance, at which Betty Keller, sophomore, was presented as Homecoming Queen.

In the afternoon, the grads witnessed the Golden Flash footballers lose a heartbreaker to Bowling Green State University, Kent State's sister school. A 13-yard pass with only five seconds left to play gave the Falcons a 12-6 victory.

Dr. Frank J. Prout, president of Bowling Green, pulled the "boner" of the day, when he commented that Kent State's new varsity athletic field had "much room for improvement."

Beta Gamma sorority, Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, and Lowry Hall freshmen were awarded trophies for the best Homecoming decorations. The Beta Gams won on "Fragrant Memories," a theme which was carried out by perfume bottles and cardboard figures representing the name of the perfume.

The Gammas and Lowryites were more in keeping with the reigning air of football. Eleven grid dummies decorated the front lawn of the Gamma house, while Lowry had a dummy in a football suit hitting a huge falcon on the head with a club.

A large audience attended the Homecoming play, "Thunder Rock." The old grads won't soon forget the excellent performances of Bill Guisewite and Bob Houser. Orchids also went to Stan Mouse, Helen DeLaney, Carol Richards, Bob Telford, Milan Grnoch, Joe Calta, Kitty Liptak, Neil Shepherd, Jim Theis, and Scheffel Pierce.

Handsome Ed Zink, Student Council vice-president, and the storry-eyed queen stand as Dr. Frank J. Prout, Bowling Green president, says a few words.

Athlete Ted Tucker waits his turn to congratulate 'Miss Keller. The liberal royalty, Queen Betty I, received a sore pow from numerous handclaps.

The trio of "Calls" in this picture called for a trophy, as Sigma Tau Gamma won the Homecoming prize for the best decorated fraternity house.

Who has what ball on which day and the $64 are yours. We'll tell you that it is the traditional battle of sister schools—Kent State vs. Bowling Green.

Democracy and Royalty—a president and a queen. Miss Keller gives her best smile to the homecoming crowd as the cameras flashed.

We couldn't decipher this but it is the prize-winning Beta Gammo house. Below, the former campus topguy Paul Ryon and his wife, the former Gene Feist, enjoy smokes after one of the numerous banquets.

Basketball Coach G. D. Storn gives some advice to son George, team mascot. George was present at every home game, lending his moral support.

Playing their last season for Kent State were Eddie Boyle, Mike Feduniok, and Joe Price.

At right: Joe Price, rated by Coach Storn as the greatest passer ever to play on the hardwood for the Blue and Gold. Price ended his collegiate career by winning all-Ohio honors.

Top left and right pictures show heated action between Kent State's players and John Carroll. The Flashes won, 35-28.

Bottom right: Scorebaard has Kent State in front of John Carroll, 16-8, as players of both teams jump for ball.

R E S U L T S

Led by all-Ohio Joe Price, one of the greatest players ever to cavort on the basketball floor for Kent State, the Golden Flashes dribbled through to their best season in many years.

Victorious in 15 of 26 games against the state's toughest opposition, Coach "Rosy" Starn's men were known as Ohio's "spoilers," no team being able to rate the Flashes a soft touch.

The cagers got off to an auspicious start with a 45-31 victory over a star-studded alumni quintet. Starn substituted liberally against the ex-Flashes as the varsity led all the way.

In the first intercollegiate test of the season, Findloy was trounced, 37-25, with every member of the first five breaking into the scoring column.

The Flashes' undefeated string was cut short on a trip to Toledo where all-American Bob Gerber and his mates led the Rockets to a 58-27 triumph. Joe Price stole the spotlight in the game, chalking up 20 points.

Bowling Green pulled the Blue and Gold down to a .500 average with a 38-34 win, when a last period rally fell short.

The Flashes hit the victory trail again with a 63-40 decision over Bluffton, a 65-32 scoring spree against Ashland, and a 62-36 verdict against Hiram.

Losses to Mt. Union's Ohio conference champions and Baldwin Wallace followed but the Messrs. Price, Tucker, Feduniak, Hein, and Blair were not to be denied, John Carroll falling, 35-28.

Wooster's fighting Scots, who were edged out of the Ohio Conference championship races for the second consecutive year by Mt. Union, scored 55 points while the Flashes were splicing the cords for only 34 markers.

A sweet 36-30 victory over Akron U. was recorded next, one of three defeats the Zippers were forced to suffer all year.

Toledo came back to register a 54-43 verdict and Wittenberg followed it up with another trouncing, but the Flashes took care of all-Ohio Leo Mogus as the varsity traveled to Youngstown to chalk up a 61-57 victory in an overtime period.

The remainder of the season was spent jumping back and forth from the win column to the lost column. Two straight victories were recorded over Heidelberg and Baldwin Wallace. The Flashes lost to Mt. Union again, won over Fenn, lost to Muskingum, trounced John Carroll, were dropped by Akron, crushed Ashland, lost in a return game to Youngstown, and finished the season with another triumph over Hiram.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Skyrockets, pinwheels, and Roman candles couldn't have provided anymore fireworks than Student council during this last year.

The students' representative body came about as close to being disbanded as ever before, but everything worked itself out.

When President K. C. Leebrick learned that council had never put its constitution before the undergraduates for approval, he presented the organization with the ultimatum of immediately revising the document and gaining the students' okay.

After the administration had already spent money taken from the student activity fund, council voted against the action, but later changed its decision. In the motion passed by the group, it was indicated that the general policy of using student activity fees for constructional expenditure was still felt to be undesirable, and that the main reason for sanctioning the use of the funds was merely a declaration of confidence in the good faith under which the board of trustees acted.

When delegates were sent to the National Student Federation of America convention at Purdue university, Hope Byrne was elected 1943 chairman, replacing senior Bob Seese.

Installed this spring as an international commerce fraternity, Delta Sigma Pi formerly was known as Delta Kappa Psi, a local chapter formed here four years ago.

Principal activity of the organization this year was aiding the U. S. Department of Commerce in conducting a survey. The city of Kent was picked as one of 12 typical cities in America and Delta Sigma Pi members helped the government compile statistics and data.

The organization boasts 23 members, including the entire commerce college staff. Dr. C. Stanley Corey and Dr. H. W. Hudson were also members.

Leaders in all phases of campus life, the members of Blue Key, National Honor Fraternity, are pledged to support the institutions of good citizenship, foster intellectual attainment and promote the best interests of the organization in which it is founded.

The organization this year worked with Cardinal Key in the Homecoming decorations, Campus Night activities, and stimulated the Penny Drive for publications to men in the armed forces. A formal dinner was given in March for the induction of pledges. Earlier in the year, the organization served on the Defense Day Float and worked out a standard point system for new members.

Officers for the year were: William Schraegle, president; John Powell, vice-president; Joe Blair, Jr., recording secretary; Bob Seese, corresponding secretary; Lenny Hill, treasurer.

One of the outstanding activities ever attempted by any organization was accomplished this year when Cardinal Key, Women's National Honor Sorority, succeeded in organizing the alumni of the University. The members gave both a luncheon and a tea for former students who elected officers at that time.

Membership this year included 18 girls who ushered for assemblies and forums, presented a radio program over the University Workshop, conducted tours for high school groups, inaugurated the sending of cards to students on their birthday anniversaries, and collected $40 for the Polio drive.

Officers are Dorothy Hostettler Siedschlag, president; Jewell Hardman, vice-president; Jane Stroup, treasurer; Mary Jane O'Brien, corresponding secretary; Marjorie Jacot, recording secretary.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA Founded at Fairmont College, W. Virginia, 1927

Five new actives inducted at the University Theater formal. Roger Wilkin receives an achievement medal from G. Harry Wright, and part of the throng at the dance.

Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic society, is an integral part of the University School of Dramatic Art. In addition to providing a fraternal association for those participating in dramatics, the organization gives plays for various clubs and societies outside of the University proper.

The faculty advisors are E. Turner Stump, also Grand Director of the national organization, and Miss Yetta Mitchell.

The society produced a play for an all-university assembly late in the Spring. As a national project of Alpha Psi Omega for the year 1941-42, the fraternity undertook the production of plays at army camps and centers throughout the nation. Despite the distance of Kent State from army camps, plans are underway for the entertainment of men with the service.

At the national convention of Alpha Psi Omega, held at Marietta college late in April, the local chapter attended in a body. The Kent State University chapter is known as the Beta Psi cast. Officers for the year included: Betty Line, first semester president; Roger Wilkin, second semester president; Bill Guisewite, vice-president; and Opal Wigner, secretary-treasurer.

PAN HELLENIC LEAGUE

The governing body of the six campus sororities, Pan Hellenic League, has as its aims the fostering of cooperation and the strengthening of friendship.

Matters such as the maintenance of sorority chapter standards, social calendars, and scholarship are under the direction of the league.

Each year Pan Hell sponsors a bridge tournament, Round Robin tea, and Scholarship dinner and also formulates rushing rules. The Round Robin tea is one of the most important sorority events of the year, all prospective pledges being invited. No pledges are allowed to be rushed until after the tea.

At the annual benefit bridge tourney, each sorority sets up 10 card tables for contests. One of the other major activities of the group is the co-sponsorship of the Interfraternity Council-Pan Hellenic dance.

Mrs. David Olson is permanent adviser, while Miss Mona Fletcher served this year as rotating adviser.

President was Betty Bowles. Other officers included Mary Jane O'Brien, vice-president, Myra Hilsinger, recording secretary, Jo Ann Hacha, corresponding secretary, and Jean Adams, treasurer.

Every woman student who registers at the University automatically becomes a member of the Women's League. The aim of this large organization is to render the greatest service possible to all Kent women, to promote their welfare, to provide a better acquaintance among the women on the campus, to foster school spirit, and to offer an opportunity for student expression in all matters.

Acclimating freshman women to campus social life constitutes a major feature of the group's activities. One of the most important functions of the League is the Big-Sister Little-Sister activity pictured at left. Upperclass-women are given the names of freshmen, and it is their duty to see that the new students become acquainted with campus life. At the beginning of each semester this activity is climaxed by a tea, this year given in the ballroom of Moulton Hall.

Other activities include parties for transfer students, Red Cross knitting, a vocational conference, a farewell banquet for graduating senior women.

Every year the League cooperates with Men's Union to sponsor the Pork Barrel, made up of skits by dormitories, fraternities, sororities, unaffiliated groups and individuals.

Officers for the year were: Betty Chapman, president; Jane Stroup, first vice-president; Marge Wedding, second vice-president; Bettie Morris, secretary.

Consisting of representatives from every class, the Men's Union exists to create a better degree of cooperation and to foster a wholesome social spirit among all University men.

Perhaps the most notable activity is awarding of the Manchester cup for the most versatile man. This contest is based on competition among men of the university in sketching, photography, handball, ping pong, checkers, bridge, chess, column writing, wrestling, editorial writing. This year's contest was won by Roy Apple. Presentation of this award was made at the Senior banquet.

Along with Women's League, this organization sponsored the Pork Barrel. Co-chairman of the event was Joe Hart. Also cooperating with the League they presented the annual New Year's ball. Adding to their long list of varied activities, this year they sponsored the new Rifle club.

Officers included Dick Foote, president; Ed Kieselbach, vice president; M. Scheffel Pierce, secretary-treasurer. Senior representatives were Roy Deming, Ralph Broden, Dick Kilbourne, and Tom Rickey. Junior representatives were Charles Ayres, Stan Mouse, Jim Carson. Sophomore representatives were Bill Dedinsky and Roy Gallagher, and Freshmen representatives were Francis Sharon and Bill Harris.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Founded at University of Illinois, 1911

Similar to other organizations from coast to coast, Wesley Foundation provides a religious and social program for university students.

On Sunday evenings three groups meet — the discussion group, dramatics, and choir. Later there have been speakers such as L. C. Wright, President of Baldwin-Wallace College, and Dr. Schuyler Garth of Youngstown.

In addition, the choral and dramatic groups have presented many programs. Panel discussions by the students have been the vogue this year.

On Friday evening there is planned recreation — parties, hikes, wiener roasts, and hayrides. Feature of the fall semester is the Fellowship Banquet, a social get-together of the old and the new members.

Deputation teams visit churches of northeastern Ohio. They conduct worship services, lead discussion groups, and counsel with Christian young people.

Wesley sponsors three co-op houses where students live for the nominal sum of five dollars a week. Around Wesley, these houses are known as a "Home Away from Home."

Officers for this year are Roy Deming, president first semester; Betty McCurdy, president second semester; Dale Cotton, vice-president; Louise Fagley, secretary; Jim Carson, treasurer; Marjorie Fankhouser, program chairman; Roy Deming, organization; Herbert Myers, publicity; Jeanne Claypoole, social; Marjorie Jacot, deputations; Rosella Dull, choir; Jeon Barger, dramatics; and Reverend Robert Clemmons, adviser.

PSI CHI

Founded at International Congress of Psychology, New Haven, Conn., 1929

Kent State university's national psychology honorary, brought to the campus in the spring of 1940, has endeavored to live up to its purposes in encouraging and stimulating each individual member to maintain his or her scholastic standards and to provide a fraternal organization for major and minors in the field of psychology throughout the school year.

Activities over the past two semesters include two radio programs, the first through K.S.R.W. in which Dr. D. W. Pearce, Jacquelyn Richner, Yvonne Horton, and John Felsingner took part. The topic was that of the national organization for the year—"The Case for Human Engineering." It took place in the form of a panel discussion. The second broadcast was on the subject of "Cleon Thinking." In this program Dr. Edna Lotz, William Schraegle, Paul Acker, and Mrs. Ruth Fairchild participated.

The organization attended the national convention of Psi Chi held at St. Louis, Mo., May 1 and 2.

Membership in the organization is open to students majoring or minoring in psychology. Dr. D. W. Pearce, head of the psychology department is the organization advisor. Officers for the year were John Felsingner, president; Jacquelyn Richner, secretary-treasurer.

Y. W. C. A.

With an accent on social service work, the YWCA, under the president Mada Mosely and sponsor Dean Bertha Parrish, gave a Halloween party for the Summit County Home, and a Christmas party for the blind of Portage county. The weekly meetings were filled with discussions and book reports, and often with the advent of a particularly interesting program, they would join with the YMCA.

Officers included: Mada Moseley, president; Betty McCurdy, vice-president; Helen Reuter, secretary; Helen Boyd, treasurer.

HOME ECONOMICS

Executive Council

Celebrating its 25th anniversary this year, the Home Economics club filled its meetings with dinners, lecturers, and parties. The club, composed of Home Economics majors and minors, is organized primarily to furnish social activity and give professional information to the members of the department.

Feature of the year was the anniversary banquet in October. Miss B. L. Nixson, advisor for the entire 25 years, gave a resume of the club's activities during that time. Officers for the year were Jeanette Morgon, president; Jean Deifenbaugh, first vice-president; Emily Dolenc, recording secretary; Martha Clark, treasurer.

BIOLOGY CLUB

Existing to give its members added information which cannot be gained from their textbooks, the Biology club sponsored field trips, lectures, and movies. At its regular meetings pictures of the West, Cuba, and wild flowers were shown. Also featured at the meetings were lectures by Professors James P. Heath, J. Arthur Herrick, and Charles B. Sumner. Officers for the year were Polly Pozniko, president, and Nelle Nolle, secretary-treasurer.

PHRATERES

Adding another national organization to the many now existing on our campus, the Off-campus women joined Phrateres on April 17, 1942 becoming the Pi chapter. This organization was founded at the University of California in 1924 to provide the opportunity for all women students to share in the extra-curricular life of the campus. Officers are Olympia Buller, president; Marge Wedding, vice-president; Evelyn Mumaw, secretary; Grace Seeley, treasurer.

ZETA IOTA

Organized last spring, Zeta Iota, women's business honorary, was given temporary recognition in October. There were 13 charter members. This new business fraternity requires its members to have an accumulative three point average.

As their contribution to "Defense," the members have donated their secretarial services to the defense council.

The officers included Cay McGowan, president; Helen Pfiefer, vice president; Doris Williams, secretary; Marion Clapp Carpenter, treasurer.

PHI ALPHA THETA

Phi Alpha Theta, history honorary, is set up under one of the most stringent membership requirements of any campus organizations.

Members must have accumulative three point averages and must carry a major or minor in history, maintaining at least a 2.5 in that subject. Students must have had 15 hours of history before being eligible to join the organization.

Officers were Betty Bowles, president, Alice O'Sickey, vice-president, Maxine Kopp, secretary, and Alta Moe Alvord, treasurer.

STUDENT FORENSICS

One of the newest organizations on the campus, the Student Forensic Association, is celebrating its second year of existence. It is composed of three parts; extension, debate, and intermurals.

The extension service, headed by Joe Hart, has been especially active, sending out 20 speakers from the Association who in turn spoke to more than 1500 people.

Heading the organization this year are Joe Blair, director; Carol Sayers, debate; Joe Hart, extension; Scheffel Pierce, intermurals.

MUSIC CLUB

The Music club was organized for the express purpose of establishing good morale, attitude and fellowship within the music department of the University. Membership is open to all majors and minors in the field. This year effort was expanded within the organization to found Chi Mu, an honorary fraternity for outstanding members of the Music club. Progress is also under way for the establishment of the national honor music fraternity. Activities for the year included record sessions, parties, and socials. Advisor for the club was Mr. Kenneth Byler. Officers included: Clara Biasella, president; Doris Dusenberry, vice-president; Norma Baldwin, secretary; Herb Stibson, treasurer.

PI KAPPA DELTA

Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary speech fraternity, promotes good-will and fellowship between universities and strives to develop the individual through intercollegiate oratory, debate, and public speaking. New members are inducted each year late in the Spring. Officers for the year were: Tom Rickey, president; Jewell Hardman, vice-president; and Dick McGinnis, secretary-treasurer.

FRENCH CLUB

A notable activity of the French club was the work for the Free French Relief fund. Members of the club sold articles and gave contributions to support the fund. Activities included presenting a French film to the student body, plays, speakers, teas and dinners. The officers for the year are Lily Mobile, president; Betty Reider, secretary; Margery Gilcrest and Francis Wren, social chairmen.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Outstanding event of the International Relations club this year was the Ohio Valley Regional conference held here at Kent. About 200 students from Kentucky, Ohio, and West Virginia attended. Chairman of the event was Jewell Hardman.

Officers for the year were Dick Moore, president; Jewell Hardman, vice president; Ralph Braden, secretary; Herman Rosenthal, treasurer.

ART CLUB

To promote good fellowship and cooperation within the school of art is the main purpose of the Art club. The club sponsored professional meetings throughout the year including a talk by Ralph Hitchcock, illustrator from Akron. In addition, the organization sponsors the student-faculty art show each year. Earlier, the club took field trips to Pittsburgh and Cleveland, visiting the major art museums. Officers for the year were: Don Isaman, president; Ellen Hausrouth, vice-president; Kitty Liptak, secretary; and Hope Byrne, treasurer.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

Founded in 1931 by E. W. Tischendorf, the Industrial Arts club promotes good fellowship among men in the industrial arts department. Mr. J. W. Dirkson was the advisor this year. Officers of the club are Roger Wilkin, president; Robert Deal, vice-president; Paul Cocks, treasurer; Henry Briggs, secretary. Meetings were held in the industrial arts building.

KAPPA DELTA PI

The second largest professional organization in the world is the claim of Kappa Delta Pi, notional educational honorary. The members of the Kent State chapter are chosen on the basis of scholarship and leadership. Outstanding on this year's program were panel discussions and lectures by educators from surrounding areas.

Officers of the year are Elizabeth McCurdy, president; Rosella Dull, vice-president; Pearl Rankin, secretary-treasurer; Mary Schnitzer, historian.

K-P CLUB

The Kindergarten-Primary club was organized in 1928 by 12 majors under the leadership of G. Hazel Swan. The purpose of the organization is to render service to the campus and community, to work for the cause of childhood and promote good fellowship among members. Activities for the year were the Freshman Get-Together, the Christmas Party, the Winter Sports Party, the Children's Party, The Marionettes, and the formal dinner. Advisors were G. Hazel Swan and Jeanne Parrish. Officers for the year were Shirley Giles, president; Doris Stanton, vice-president; Ruth Renz, secretary; and Mildred Jacobs, treasurer.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman club is a Catholic organization composed of University students and exists chiefly for the spiritual betterment of its members. Although a religious study group in essence, Newman club offers its members diversions in other fields, principally sports and social activity. Officers include Tom Bates, president; John Kelly, vice president; Cay McGowan, second vice-president; Raymond Phillips, treasurer; Kathleen O'Doherty, secretary; Tom Gavagan, athletic director; Reverend Loe Carlin, moderator.

H. P. E. CLUB

The H.P.E. club with Mr. Altmann, head of the department of physical education as advisor, completed its fifteenth year. Founded in 1927, the organization has since changed its requirements for membership. Although at first a closed organization, it has since allowed all majors and minors in the field entry.

Activities for the year consisted of a banquet, at which Dr. Moulton, Oberlin college, was speaker, and a May picnic. Officers for the year were Ted Tucker, president; Joan Borofka, vice president; and Walt Porowski, secretary-treasurer.

VARSITY K

Varsity K at Kent State university is composed of varsity lettermen from all the major sports of the university. The organization completed an ambitious program including concessions at home football games, two parties, one a swimming party in the University pool and another a picnic. Officers for the year included Eddie Boyle, president; Hal Martin, vice-president; Ted Tucker, secretary; Chet Bania, treasurer; and Walt Porowski, sergeant-at-arms.

COMMERCE CLUB

Majors and minors who are superior scholastically in the college of business administration are given the chance to meet experts in their field through membership in the Commerce club. Speakers were brought before the bi-monthly meetings of the club to explain business methods.

The club as its "Defense Effort" headed a traffic survey made in Portage county of various congested areas under the direction of the University Defense Council.

Officers for the year were Harold Murphy, president; Bob Kitchingman, vice president; Jack Collins, treasurer; Ann Puz, secretary.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

Yet to celebrate its first anniversary, the Elementary Education club, founded in the fall of 1941, is organized for the purpose of promoting interest, cooperation, and loyalty among the students in elementary education.

Activities included a Christmas party for needy Kent children, a tea, and several lectures by professional speakers.

Officers were Frances Goode, president, Bertha Weiss, vice-president, Louise Bjorson, secretary, and Frank Vrsen, treasurer.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

Composed of two members from each active fraternity on the campus, the Inter-Fraternity council is organized to act as a governing body for these social clubs. It uses the rotation method of selecting officers. Dick Clark, Alpha Phi Beta, was the president under this system.

Each year the two main functions of the council are the scholarship banquet in the spring, and the dance held in cooperation with the Pan Hellenic association.

Other officers were Ed Zink, vice-president; Leonard Hill, secretary; James O'Hara, treasurer; Frank O'Brien, corresponding secretary; John Pentz, social chairman.

ENGINEERS CLUB

Organized to create more interest among future student engineers at Kent State, the Engineers club devoted many meetings to discussions of the slide rule, Diesel trains and engines, and airplanes.

However, field trips to a proposed new road, a tour of the president's residence, and wiener roast for the new freshman members added interest to their varied program.

This year the officers were Benjamin Roberts, James Theis, vice-president; Ralph Burghans, treasurer, and Harold Fugman, secretary.

RIFLE CLUB

The Kent State Rifle club was founded late in October for the purpose of developing interest and aptitude in the care and use of firearms. The organization has both indoor and outdoor range facilities near completion. Club membership for the year totaled 25 men. Officers for the year included: Jim Griffin, president; Woolcot Lyon, vice-president; Woodrow Masters, treasurer; and Dom Monaco, secretary.

PSI LAMBDA OMICRON

Psi Lambda Omicron, home economics honorary, is open to outstanding members of the home economics field. Major work of the organization for the year included petitions and fulfilling requirements for association with the national honorary of home economics. Officers for the year were Mory Schnitzer, president; Jean Evons, secretary-treasurer.

When Chi Pi resumes its meetings next fall, the men's honorary journalism fraternity will be starting practically from scratch, all but two of the men pictured above not returning to school because of graduation or new affiliations.

A full schedule of events rounded out the Chi Pi calendar for the year, the organization sending three delegates to New Orleans for the convention of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism honorary. Major work of the year was getting petitions in shape for Sigma Delta Chi.

The group sponsored a talk by L. F. Leavenburg, cable editor of the Cleveland News, and also published football programs for the home games.

With aerial warfare playing such a major role in modern conflicts, the government and the University administration both took many steps forward in giving the Civilian Pilot Training Program a boost.

Adrian Van Wyen, CPTP instructor here, acted as go-between for the University and the government, variations being made in the training rules throughout the semester.

The quota for trainees was raised from 10 to 20, and registrants for the courses had to have their loyalty to the government checked. Members had to be fingerprinted and vouched for by responsible persons.

Those registering for the spring session were required to sign an affidavit agreeing to enter one of the armed forces upon completion of their course, but they could obtain occupational deferments on the strength of their pledge to enter some branch of the government flying service upon completion of their training.

Women were banned from the courses for the first time "because of the national emergency, which made it necessary for the CPT program to train men for flight defense," Van Wyen said.

Pessimistic Joseph W. Begolo, wrestling coach, carved his name in the sport world, heard it mentioned as the nation's greatest wrestling coach, and read it in Esquire.

J. W. Begolo

Fateful number 13 proved to be a jinx for Coach Joe Begala as his wrestlers wound up their season with three losses against nine victories, most disastrous record for the Golden Flash grapplers since Begala took the helm 13 years ago.

For the second time since the organization of the interstate tournament 11 years ago, Begala's men failed to win the championship, finishing second to Michigan State's Spartans.

But in the national tournament, the Flashes came through with flying colors, retaining their fifth place ranking, although being tied by Purdue, Big Ten champion, and Navy, Eastern Intercollegiate title holder.

Captain Walt Porowski, heavyweight, went to the finals, losing out to a member of Oklahoma A. & M.'s team, which took the national title for the sixth straight year.

Duane Hague, 136 pounds, advanced as far as the semi-finals and Bob Bader took fourth place in the 165-pound division. Hague and Bader both took inter-state championships.

Waynesburg, Michigan State, and Ohio U. were the teams which defeated the Golden Flashes but the team gained revenge on the latter squad, drubbing the Bobcats in a meet held High School Day.

Other victories were scored over Rochester A. & M., Bowling Green, University of Akron, Ohio State, Baldwin-Wallace, Findlay, Indiana State Teachers college, and the Freshmen.

Similar scenes were enacted many times in Wills gym as the Golden flash wrestlers piled up a nine wins and three losses record. Above: Referee Joe Tabor signifies a pin for Dave Poulus over his Ohio U. opponent.

A C H I E V

Don Rippberger, national junior AAU runner-up of Michigan, not being able to compete until second semester hurt the Golden Flashes' chances during the first six meets, and no doubt it had a great deal to do with the grapplers losing to Waynesburg and Ohio U.

Rippberger wrestled for the freshmen in the first meet of the season and decisioned Bill McCune of the varsity. Tom Davis won for the frosh when he decisioned Duane Hague. In other bouts, though, the first year men were helpless, losing the setto, 24-6.

George Grahame, Bob Bader, and Romie Alexoff all scored pins for the varsity, while Don Sinn, Mike Slepecky, and Dave Paulus came through with decisions.

In the first intercollegiate match of the season, just before the holidays, the wrestlers presented Begala with a Christmas present—a 26-6 triumph over Rochester A. & M.

Slepecky, Joe Incorvaia, Hague, and Walt Porowski all won by falls and Sinn and Bader took decisions.

Hague wrestled in the 155-pound class, 20 pounds above his regular weight.

A former teammate of Cooch Begala's at Ohio U., Joe Gander, brought the Bowling Green Falcons to Wills gym, but Begala was no respecter of friendships that night, allowing his men to roll up a 29-3 score over Kent State's sister school.

Sinn, Slepecky, Incorvaia, and Paulus were victorious, all pinning their men, Slepecky turning in the season's fastest time, 30 seconds, only two above the record. Hague, Bader, and Stanley scored decisions.

Just before the University of Akron meet, it was learned that Captain Walt Porowski would be unable to do any more wrestling for the remainder of the season, his jaw giving him trouble once again. He had sustained a fracture during the football season in a game against Western Reserve.

Perhaps thinking about the grid beating administered to the Flashes by Akron, the Blue and Gold matmen unzipped the Zippers, 34-0. Joe Fortunato made his debut as a replacement for Porowski and won when his opponent was forced to forfeit the match. Slepecky continued his quick pins, taking care of his foe in 61 seconds.

Sinn, Slepecky, Bader, and Earl Stanley were the only men able to win against Waynesburg, and the Flashes fell before the Yellow Jacks, 14-12.

This was followed by a 17-11 loss to Ohio U., but as the second semester rolled around, Kent State showed a surprising reversal of form, taking Ohio State, 14-12, to gain a leg on the state championship.

The Begalamen got another crack at Ohio U. before a cheering High School Day crowd and showed the Bobcats that the result of their first fray had been an accident by notching a 15-11 victory. Slepecky wrestled his last meet for Kent State, leaving a few days later to join the army air corps. The loss of the second ranking 128-pounder in the country was hard to take.

The win over Ohio U. plus the victory over Ohio State gave the Flashes clear claim to the Ohio title.

Baldwin Wallace forfeited the next meet after losing their coach to the army, although they went through with all the other meets on their schedule.

Findlay proved to be little opposition, Begala's boys chalking up a 20-6 triumph on the Oilers' home mats. Incorvaia scored the only Kent State pin, disposing of his man in 4:36.

With the mid-west title at stake, the Flashes fell prey to Michigan State for the second straight year, 19-11. The Spartans forfeited their first match and Bader and Fortunato decided their men to account for Kent State's points.

Romping over Indiana State Teachers college, 30-0, in the final match of the season, the Flashes arranged a meet with Case, but it was called off, when the Case athletic council refused to grant approval.

Bader pinned his Indiana opponent in 50 seconds to complete the season undefeated, with 11 straight victories under his belt.

Dodging the pitfalls of their first year at Kent State, over 400 sophomores came back for more when the 1941-42 year opened.

By now, many of the sophomores were beginning to eye the campus as a place for making a mark as leaders in student activities and in class room participation.

The class of '44 duplicated its freshman year activities, staging a class theater party and sponsoring a dance, jointly with the juniors.

Some sophomore plans had to be changed at nine weeks of the second semester when John Lemak, president, left school to enter the army. Vice-president Jim Hewitt took over the executive duties.

Not lacking in ingenuity, the sophs and juniors took advantage of the situation created by the state high school basketball tournament in Wills gym. When the time for their dance rolled around, the gymnasium was hemmed in by bleachers, enough for 5,000 people. At once the stands became part of dance atmosphere, chiming right in with the theme of a circus. A yellow and blue canopy was used for decorations and pictures of animals were painted on the walls.

Outstanding on the campus as members of the sophomore class for the year have been: Al Geitgey, business manager of the Stater; Vic Karakul, baseball; Romie Alexoff, football; Russ Baird, athletic publicity director; Harry Kuzmenko, football; Suzanne Martin, university theater; Dottie Roessel, the Kent Stater; E. Lenard Silverstein, Radio Workshop; Jim Theiss, university theater; John Boda, music; Monetta Croakman, majorette; and Joe Fortunato, football and baseball.

LOWRY

Lowry hall, the dormitory whose residents can get up at 7:50 and get to an eight o'clock class, is one of the oldest buildings on the campus. It now houses freshman girls, and also the university dining halls.

Coming to Kent in the fall, the girls in Lowry elected Eunice McCoy, president; Eloise Toops, vice president; Vivienne Gage, secretary; Carol Green, treasurer, and social chairman, Rita Lane. Under the direction of these officers they stepped right into the swing of school life by winning the homecoming cup for dormitory decorations. Next they won the first event of the athletic season by taking the soccer cup.

Dance programs hanging from scrapbooks reveal that the dorm held two formal dances at the Twin Lakes country club, and played hostess to their dates at an open house. Sunday afternoon teas added to the spirit of hospitality.

But it was the girls themselves that made the year at Lowry such a memorable one. Remember how Ruth Cockrell received special delivery letters daily? How great was the disappointment when it was discovered that June Nicodemus couldn't sing the lead in the Pork Barrel skit? Ruth Recht and her subtle humor. And finally Rita Lone who always had fresh flowers in her room.

Lowry hall girls take time out for an evening of indoor social activities. Here the girls partake of knitting, listening to the radio shows, reading, and the Lawry Hall scrapbook.

MOULTON

Who's got my formal? Let's go down to the recreation room and dance! Do not disturb, sleeping! Will the meeting please come to order? Whoops! I didn't know that there was anyone in the lounge. This last statement indicates clearly that these phrases are issuing from Moulton Hall, the newest of the freshman dorms.

Situated at one end of the semi-circle of the University buildings, this dorm houses 98 freshman girls. Coming to Kent for the first time, the girls are met by upperclasswomen who act as desk girls and counselors. Soon parties, dates, and dances fill the hours and at the end of the year the girls leave for other dorms taking with them the memories of friendships, midnight spreads, and companionship.

Under the leadership of Miss Isabelle Reid, the first semester, and Miss Gaynell Neff, the second, Moulton residents gave spring and Christmas formals, a Harvest Hop and a Spring Fever Frolic. Continuing an annual custom the girls played hostess to the faculty at a tea in April.

However important as these extra activities are, it is the memory of the girls that will make this year in Moulton Hall a happy one. Elaine Ludeman's flippancy at house meeting. Eve Mares telling long tales. Midge Abshire's number ringing every hour, Ruth Erricson chosen the Chestnut Burr Queen, Marty Forsberg elected student council representative, Mug Soule, whose pictures dot the annual, and finally the desk girl, who campused you the night before the Top Hop.

ENGLEMAN

Living in Englemon hall is like living in one of the newest modern apartment buildings. This dormitory, only a few years old, has all the modern conveniences including a sun porch with an open fireplace, glass-enclosed lounge overlooking a terrace, and a recreation room and smoker combined.

This upperclasswomen's dorm holds 232 girls. It is governed by a council consisting of a president, Dottie Ann Reese; vice presidents, Betty Jane Lead- enham, Gladys Jacobs, Jane Stroup, Maxine Miller; secretary, Della Risto; treasurer, Jane Higgins. This group deals with any of the problems which arise in the dormitory such as campuses and late permits. There is also a lower council consisting of two girls from each floor. These girls primarily plan the social events. This year they inaugurated a series of get-togethers for the girls of the various wings.

Social events for the whole dorm have been a fall informal dance, a winter formal, and a spring buffet dinner dance. Parties for each holiday were planned by Theta Miller, social chairman.

Every year at Christmas time girls from this dorm participate in a pageant which is given for the other dorms. The reader was Kitty Liptak.

However, one of the most important results of the dorm's activity has been a new song written by Phyllis Pontius. Just to see the pride in the faces of the girls as they sing, "Here's to the dorm of all dreams," makes you want to live in Engleman hall.

The Women's Athletic association has emphasized this year the importance of the good health of students for national defense and the war effort.

In regards to this they sponsored a health drive in February that ran through six weeks and was climaxed with the appearance of Mary K. Browne, former women's national tennis champion. She spoke at an all-women assembly.

Also in February, W.A.A. held its annual Sweetheart dance to celebrate St. Valentine's Day, at which they sold defense stamps. In April the club played host to girls from 50 high schools in northeastern Ohio at High school play day. Throughout the year, W.A.A. kept its members busy with such activities as soccer, volleyball, basketball, swimming, ping pong, badminton, baseball, bowling, and other seasonal sports.

For its outdoor athletics, members played on the women's athletic field behind Engleman hall. The club awarded cups for teams winning in the various sports and a large trophy to the team with the greatest percentage in participation. Betty Gorlich served W.A.A. this year as president; Mabel Esping, vice-president; Betty Duff, treasurer; and Jane Hand, secretary. Mrs. Virginia Harvey is the advisor of the Women's Athletic association.

Formed to build the health of University women and thereby prepare them to meet all emergencies in national defense, the Victory Volunteer program was started early in March, just three months after the declaration of war.

The V.V. organization is believed to be the first of its kind in the country. Women from all walks of campus life are included in the program. Meetings bring representatives from all committees—sororities, dormitories, off-campus houses, and campus organizations.

Miss Rosalie Christian serves as chairman, while the eight faculty members serving in the central unit include Dr. Frances Harshbarger, originator of the plan, Dr. Grace Sherrer, Dr. Florence Beal, Mrs. Virginia Harvey, Mrs. Clea VanOrman, Dr. Alice Ryder, Dean Mary L. Smallwood, and Miss Jeanne Parrish.

Swimming in the university pool is the perfect training ground for healthful recreation.

Archery on the trant campus provides an opportunity for developing strong and keen eyesight.

Badminton offers the girls an indoor team competition throughout the year. Games were recently in progress in W.A.A. gym.

The junior class produced some very active members, worked hard, and managed to have a good time during the year 1942.

Combining with the second year students in sponsoring the Junior-Sophomore dance, the juniors had Wills gym decorated like the "Big Top," all decorations being made to conform to a circus-like spirit. Billy Munday, whose band furnished the music for the Theatre formal, also played at the Junior-Soph hop.

The class dues drive was conducted all year. Alita Boecker was chairmon of the social committee and Margaret Lewis headed the dues committee. President Bill Guisewite had a hand in all the activities and did a good job of putting the juniors in high esteem among the other classes.

Many individuals gained honors and participated in extra-curricular activities. Frances Allen was active in the Radio Workshop; Morge Brown was mistress of the house in the University Theatre and Ellen Hausrath and James Muzzy also participated in the theater productions.

Bob Diehl led the marching band as drum major and also pounded the drums; James Higgins was the top junior debater, winning many honors; Betty Jane Leodenham was crowned Miss Kent Stote; Carol Richards was poet laureate of the junior class.

Charley Ayres served as editor of the Duchess and was elected president of Koppo Mu Kappa fraternity late in the year. Stan Mouse and Ayres were representatives to Men's Union; Joe Hart was named Student council prexy; Dick Kerckhoff was feature editor of The Stater; Ed Zink presided over Sigma Tau Gomma meetings, and Harold Murphy, head of the Commerce club besides being business manager of the Burr.

In the field of athletics, the junior class was represented in football by Lou Toth, Ralph Church, Bob Williams, Chet Bania, Bo Dutton, Bob Hein, Lowell Wetzel, Ralph Petros, Dick Schwabe, and Howard Mack. Juniors on the basketball team included Ted Tucker, Dick Weigle, Hein, Wetzel, and Dutton. The baseball team was led by Tucker, Mack, Weigle, Vic Karakul, and Bania.

Debate squads practice long and hard but the victories are pleasant. Jewell Hardman holds one of the team's trophies.

Climaxing a successful season, Kent State's debate team won first place honors in the Grand Eastern tournament at Rock-hill, South Carolina, to take highest ranking among the nation's outstanding debate squads.

The men's team of Herbert Myers and Robert Beckwith was victorious over such schools as Duke, Notre Dame, West Virginia, University of Florida, and The Citadel. Alice O'Sickey and Jane Higgins finished second in the women's division.

The women's debate team, composed of Alice O'Sickey, Jane Higgins, Marjorie Jacot, and Carol Sayers won their second consecutive Ohio conference championship.

The debaters, under the advisership of J. N. Holm, director of forensics, also participated in other Ohio conference debates, the Manchester tournament at Manchester, Ind., two northeastern Ohio contests, the Peace Oratory contest at Columbus, and the National Discussion contest at Detroit, Mich. Before a capacity crowd in the auditorium, Alpha Omega, Gamma Sigma Phi, and Sigma Sigma Sigma tied for the annual cup awarded to the skit staged by a sorority.

In the individual bracket, John Bada and Marion Nichols finished with an equal share of the judges' approval and had to draw straws. Marion won and received a handsome trophy.

Kappa Mu Kappa was victorious in the fraternity division, Engleman Hall won the dormitory cup, and Wesley Co-op House was awarded the unaffiliated group prize.

The proceeds of the affair, which was emceed by Bob Houser, went toward the penny drive, so that more University men in the service could receive copies of the college publications.

Here at Kent State we hired Johnny Lemak's band; painted and pasted ourselves together as horrible as possible; drafted Kenneth Nichols, Beacon-Journal columnist, as judge.

Winners were Marguerite Cook, Daisy Mae; Lenny Lattin, Li'l Abner; Katherine Thomas, Mammy Yokum; Joan Norris, Sadie Hawkins, and Dick McGinnis, Hairless Joe.

The Kent State University Concert Band, under the direction of Roy D. Metcalf, is one organization that has not suffered from this year's drop in enrollment. A group of members of his 60 piece band received a high rating at the Intercollegiate Band Festival at Oberlin this year. The band gave two concerts this season, one in March and one in the May Music Week.

In the March Concert, given in the University Auditorium the first part of the program consisted of the following numbers—Beautiful Savior, The Golden Century Overture, Flandria Overture, and the Marine Hymn. The second part of the program consisted of a mock radio broadcast in which forty-four members took part. In this part were played—the Raymond Overture, and the U. S. Field Artillery March.

Kenneth Byler, youthful conductor of the University orchestra pictured during a moment of a symphony concert.

This has been a busy year for the popular Symphony Orchestra. While other organizations have shown a marked decrease in membership the orchestra under the leadership of Kenneth Byler, instructor in music, has increased its roster to fifty pieces—a gain of five pieces over last year. Membership in the orchestra is gained through tryouts held at the beginning of the year. During the fall and spring semesters the orchestra made the following appearances: appeared in a concert on November 27th, accompanied the chorus in the Messiah on December 14th, assisted the chorus in the Bach Cantata, broadcasted four times over K S R W concert programs, and collaborated with the Choir in the May Program.

The Women's Glee club again this year, lived up to its tradition of fine performance. Under the capable direction of Elfleda Littlejohn it has appeared alone in one concert; and in collaboration with the orchestra and A Cappella Choir gave a final concert during Notional Music Week.

Women's Glee Club

The programs for these concerts included the beautiful and difficult Dido's Lament, By a Lonely Forest, The Evening Prayer, I Hear a Harp, The Dream Rabber, With Muted Strings, and such folk songs as At Night When I Was Dreaming, and Old Love Song.

The officers of the Women's Glee Club are: Clara Biasella, president, Barbara Weltan, vice president, and Rosella Dull, secretary.

A CAPPELLA

The forty blended voices of the A Cappella Choir under the direction of Joseph Lupkiewicz, again brought distinction to the music department of K. S. U. Membership in this select group is by try out only. During the past years the A Cappella choir has made numerous appearances. Among these have been the Thanksgiving assembly, the Christmas assembly, and the Easter assembly. They were featured at one concert in February, also appeared in the Congregational Church, and assisted in the opening of the new Christian Church of Kent.

More than 100 voices are prepared to ring out over the airwaves as the University presents its sixth annual "Messiah." Insert shows Prof. Fred H. Denker drawing the crescendos from the group.

Declared by many to be the best ever staged at Kent State University, the sixth annual performance of Handel's "Messiah" was presented Sunday, December 14.

The tenor tones of Arthur Kraft, soloist, made the greatest impression on the audience, which filled the auditorium. Kraft came from Rochester, N. Y., where he was a faculty member of the Eastman School of Music.

With the voices of 150 glee club members as background, other solo performances were given by Laura Durstein, contralto, Foster Miller, bass, and Hilda McMillen, soprano.

Miss Durstein was soloist of the Church of the Covenant in Cleveland. Miller, noted New York singer, was a native of Bedford, O.

John Bado provided the piano accompaniment, while June Brenneman was organist.

Congressmen, educators, religious leaders, artists—all spoke before University students during assemblies held this last year in the auditorium.

A long list of prominent names and high sounding titles attest to the variety and calibre of the programs.

Among the speakers were Representative Dow Harter, member of the House military affairs committee, Senator Robert A. Taft, Dr. Arthur H. Compton, head of the department of physics at the University of Chicago, Rabbi Abba Hillel Silver, head of the Cleveland Temple, Dr. Everett Clinchy, of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, and Father Vincent C. Donovan, of the Catholic Thought Association.

Also Dr. Harland Hatcher, member of the Ohio State University English department and the author of several books on Ohio country, Dr. Reinhold Schairer, former head of the department of international relations at the University of London, Rockwell Kent, noted illustrator and artist, Max Brauer, former German official and League of Nations envoy, Dr. T. V. Smith, lecturer and professor of philosophy at the University of Chicago.

Dr. K. C. Leebrick, Kent State University president, figured in many assemblies. He spoke at the first assembly, honoring the seniors, and saw his life caricatured from birth to present day by the two campus zanies, Bill Guisewite and Stan Mouse.

E. Ladislaw Novatny, associate professor of art, demonstrated painting techniques in one of the "home talent" shows. Bill Guisewite, Marian Zupan and Henry Keppner shared the spotlight with the a cappella choir in the Christmas assembly, and several administrative sessions were called to clarify students' viewpoints on certain matters.

BURR EDITORIAL

Behind the scenes of any publication, there are many words and pictures that are never written and never published. Perhaps some of these words and pictures can be described as the job or duty at hand. At any rate, the production of a college yearbook requires not only the months of planning and the months of action, but a distinctive ability of its staff to judge and evaluate what the students like.

The 1942 Burr took for its mosthead, "College Life in Pictorial Journalism." It's ambition was the production of a vibrant and life-like picture of the life at Kent State for the last year. Based on the power of the photograph, more effort was expended on the publication of fine photographs than any other single element. However, this is by no means an attempt at a photographic masterpiece.

It is only the viewpoint of the staff and editor. What the camera can say is limited by what the action to be photographed can say. The subject was Kent State University and the Burr staff has attempted an honest and different approach for its recording.

Editor Lenny Shafitz, shot 3000 photographs, ranging from fast football to glamour photos, stressed as complete a coverage of university life as possible.

Every picture takes as much time in the darkroom as it does before the camera.

Stella Choykowsky, Cy Melina and James Barrell Rector aided the business manager and editor.

Standing: Prof. Ada Hyott, Prof. William Taylor, chairman, Dr. Eric T. Griebeling, and Robert Seese.

The men and women behind the men and women who put out the University publications compose the Board of Publications.

Headed by Prof. William Taylor, chairman, the board is empowered to do the hiring and firing on the publications, to advise the editors and business managers of the three University organs, The Chestnut Burr, The Kent Stater, and The Duchess.

The Board had a quiet first period during most of the first semester but went into action later when the Duchess was put to bed. The Kent Stater later was also set right on University policy and the Board ruled that "editors and business managers of the university publications must comply with the regulations set down by the committee."

The Board of Publications performs a valuable service to the university in that ability and sincerity govern their choice of publication heads.

Composed of three students and four faculty members, the Board keeps a democratic watch over the campus publications.

KENT STATER

Kent State University Student Newspaper
KENT, OHIO, TUESDAY, APRIL 28, 1942
No. 100
VOL. XVII Z568

Two seniors this year shared the responsibility of editing The Kent Stater, University daily newspaper.

John Mine, who hails from Newark, N. J., served as first semester editor and Gus Chigges, six-foot-two Barberton, O., lad was in charge of the Stater during the second semester.

It was Mine, who instituted the "beat" system, gaining greater coverage for the paper by virtue of checking every possible news source.

When the second semester came around, Chigges was forced to build a new staff, many of the veterans having dropped Stater work to concentrate on studies or take outside newspaper work. With many freshmen on the staff, Chigges nevertheless maintained the high quality of writing and kept the Stater in the running for All-American honors with many excellent issues.

Mort Metker does the lin typing for the Stater.

T E R S T A F F

The typical student looks at the daily issue of The Kent Stater, reads a few of the articles, and leaves it in some classroom, commenting perhaps on a particular issue being "pretty good."

And that's all the student thinks about it. But there's a lot more to putting out the Stater than meets the eye.

An extensive "beat" coverage network has been set up, which leaves it well nigh impossible to leave out any news of the University. Each reporter is assigned a certain amount of news sources to cover. He checks these every day and turns in his stories to the managing editor, who sits at the copy desk.

After all mistakes are edited out, headlines written, the material is linotyped. But the editor's job is far from finished. Proof must still be read and not until it is certain that all four pages are typographically perfect do the presses start rolling.

Managing Editor Jim Richard at the copy desk with society editor Donna Payden and Tom Gavagan.

Editor John Mine, Dick Kerckhoff, and Charles McWilliams consider an editorial.

Luth Recht and Frances White look at one of the reports on the bulletin board.

Bob Rafal, Marionna Ledbetter, Bob Ledbetter, and Al Geitgey were in charge of the Stater business during the year.

Tousle haired, likable C. A. Ayres piloted the Duchess through the first semester, deadline time heard his favorite "I's been flubbed."

D U C H E S S

The Duchess, adroitly headed "humor magazine of Kent State university," hit the campus with the best edition ever, plainly labeled September. Two young men, Editor Charley Ayres and Business Manager H. J. Doehla got themselves into a quandary and decided to produce the great "American humor magazine" at dear old K. S. U.

As individualistic as only the staff can make it, the Duchess took the campus, selling at 15 cents per copy. And so it did. Popularity increased, the Duchess went to 24 pages, glossier paper, and the price upped to 20 cents.

Subscriptions award went to Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority who became the proud possessors of the 16 inch trophy.

Editor Ayres inaugurated many new features in the "new" Duchess. Through her lorgnette she saw more pictures, jokes, short stories, and cartoons.

Picture deadline time for Charley—three days and the printer wants the dummy, but Donald—where are those cartoons, and Guisewite, how about those columns, and for Mercy's sake, Sours, you haven't developed those negatives yet

Taking the helm in February, brown-eyed Editor Lindy Barch announced a face lifting for the Duchess. Changing her format and design, the Duchess kept pace with student opinion and managed a successful year.

Highlights of the year included the man and woman of the month, the Phizz girl contest, and the picture parade.

Bob Raful became second semester business manager, while other staff members included Luella Heupel, Lig Mayhew, Don Kemp, Al Van Auken and Harris Knight.

Old favorites remained with the new face-lifted Duchess including Kenyon and Vacariu, Dick Kerckhoff's breezy and bizarre typewritings, Notes to You with Herb Rosen, and least of all, the humor.

BY the time the middle of the second semester hits the calendar, University students begin to settle down and realize that the books they bought 'way back are more than ornaments.

The midnight oil begins to get a little more of the burning treatment and formerly "just plain students" become academic wizards.

But extra-curricular activity is still not completely forgotten.

With the war becoming more and more the motivating influence behind every move, Kent State's war program received a thorough streamlining when the War Activities Council was set up to replace the University Defense Council. The function of the WAC is "to clear and approve all University programs having to do with the emergency and to coordinate and approve the efforts of the various University organizations and committees which have been or will be established for emergency purposes."

Student council okayed the new constitution by a unanimous vote and Glenn Miller, ace band leader, presented Kent State with a serenade, playing "When the Roses Bloom Again."

Wills gym became the scene of the state Class A high school basketball finals, Xenia Central triumphing over Toledo Central Catholic . . . Ruth Erricson was named Burr queen and 250 couples heard Jack Coffey's music at the annual Pan-Hell dance, held at the East Market Gardens, Akron.

The Kent Stater came out with an issue depicting the paper as it would look if the Nazis took over. The name was changed to "Das Lugenblatt" . . . Joe Hart was elected Student council president.

Designed to aid students, faculty members, and townspeople in reaching some intelligent understanding of the problems growing out of a nation at war, a series of war courses was offered.

Percy Grainer, famed pianist, presented a concert before nearly 1,000 people . . . One-hundred-and-three music groups came to the University for two days to participate in the annual NEO music festival, of which Prof. Roy D. Metcalf acted as chairman.

Prof. G. Harry Wright served as director for the seventh annual Thespian One-Act Drama Festival for NEO high schools. Of the five festivals in the state, the contest sponsored by the University school of speech has always been the largest.

The University Theatre entered its 11th major season with "Thunder Rock," a philosophical study starring Bob Hauser. Directed by E Turner Stump, the play proved a successful vehicle.

Even while the applause echoed in the auditorium, G Harry Wright was preparing "The World We Live In," a satirical insect comedy.

The third major university production proved a brilliant success, bringing forth new talents from Opal Wigner, Dan Shanower, and Bill Guisewite in "Invitation to a Murder," constantly proving that crime doesn't pay. Produced before a two night audience and one matinee, the play featured low-key lighting, heavy characterizations, and continued suspense and excitement tempo.

Bringing to a close the production schedule for the year, Prof. G Harry Wright staged "George Washington Slept Here." This city-to-country comedy proved a substantial part for Bill Guisewite, who played little, pathetic Newton Fuller, and Milan Grnach, as the pseudo-rich uncle Stanley.

In looking over the season, a better choice of plays brought good performances from the following theatre members: Stan Mouse, Charles Viscounty, Ruth West, Mary Haines, Marietta Young, E. Lenard Silverstein, Kitty Liptak, Jean Barger, Jim Theis, Charles Piper, Marian Zupan, Bob Hauser, Opal Wigner, Don Shanower, Bob Wiley, Suzanne Martin, Joe Calta, Helen DeLaney and Bob Telford.

More than five thousand students and visitors watched the 16th annual Campus Night activities.

Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority went modernistic in their costume design or perhaps it was the "picture appeal."

Kent State university's oldest and finest tradition, Campus Night, was never more elaborate, colorful, or ceremonious than last year, when 17 organizations, led by the May Queen, Miss Donno Johnson and her attendants, formed a mile-long parade.

The 16th annual Campus Night had Elizabeth Tucker in charge while Betty Crompton was chairman of the lawn festivities.

Maypole ceremonies show co-eds in their dance of the May.

When the cool evening sun settled behind the clouds for the day, students, townfolks, and visitors were all in agreement on the impressive and spiritual tempo of the event.

Marching in order of their establishment on the campus, the 17 campus organizations which participated in the activities, later convened at the informal dance held later in the evening in Wills gym.

Except for the pitching and catching staff, sophomores dominated the team. Hurlers Joe Mileski and Dan Gulgin served their last year, and catcher Mike Feduniak was a junior.

Except for the lone defeat inflicted upon the Golden Flashes in the opening dual meet, the Kent State track team could have gone through three straight seasons without a loss.

This year, the Flashes were upset in their opening contest, dropping a 78-53 decision to Findlay.

Undaunted by the reversal, the tracksters went on to clip Hiram, 80-51, steamroller Akron, 88½-42½, blast Fenn, 85-46, and score a convincing 84-47 triumph over Mt. Union.

Even though Kent State's swimmers contributed only one victory to the University athletic record, their triumph came during "Victory Week," which saw the Golden Flashes defeat the University of Akron in basketball, wrestling, and swimming.

Judy Marshall, believed to be the only woman collegiate swimming coach in the nation, led the squad, together with Harry Adams, assistant football mentor.

Besides participating in 10 dual meets, the swimmers went to the Ohio conference and district AAU meets. Bob Telford and Don Edwards represented the varsity and George VanVolkenberg and Bill Long were sent from the freshman squad.

GYM TEAM

With the largest gym team in Kent State's history, Prof. G. J. Altmann's trapeze artists performed between the halves of eight basketball games and climaxed their season by winning five awards in the invitational meet held at Akron.

Those receiving awards included John Paulich, Richard Johnson, Paul Whitworth, Eli Beery, and Ralph Church.

GOLF-TENNIS TEAM

Both the golf and tennis teams ended successful seasons, each notching seven victories as against four losses.

Cliff Thompson, professional at nearby Meadowview course, served as coach for the niblick swingers, while Bill O'Neil led the racquet squad. O'Neil resigned his position at the close of the season and was replaced by senior Harold Andreas.

Rivalling varsity athletic contests for interest and spirit, the men's intramural program at the University reached new heights in participation and variety this year.

Under the leadership of Nick Carter and Prof. G. J. Altmann, of the HPE staff, a well rounded curriculum of sports was planned and followed.

Contests were held among independent groups and fraternities, separate trophies being given in each class. Sports participated in included horseshoes, swimming, basketball, volleyball, softball, football, fencing, table tennis, and gymnastics.

Judging by the smile on Roy Apple's face as he measures the distance between one horseshoe and the peg, he and Lowell Gatts won that round. Nick Stanfar and Bill Bailey don't look as happy.

It's the beginning of a touch-down play on the Women's Athletic field, where many intramural football games were played. There wasn't any brass band around, but there was just as much competition in the interfraternity games as in the varsity contests.

SENIOR CLASS OF KSU

With graduation in sight, 263 seniors began compiling point averages, major and minor requirements, and credits. When the work was done, a nostalgic bit of reminiscence took hold and the Senior Lament for '42 had begun. Those dear old college sentimentalities consisting of joe college, apple polishing, college humor, why didn't I study more often, and the more general period of Brady sitting, Den "cokes," Junior proms, pre-quiz cramming, and opening football games have meant much for the memory.

But the traditionally melancholy senior, after commencement prophecies are made, starts down life's trail with "a tear in his eye and a smile on his lips." And almost at that same moment he begins to shy away from the references of his light and fancy college years. For his approach to maturity has begun. And then "What Next?"

For hundreds of men the future is already decided and again it may well be for the women. But today, the men and women have a new job in the task that besets the nation. For the seniors must fit into the great effort as the captain takes the helm during a storm.

When this storm blows away and that silver lining bursts forth new happiness—the seniors will take up the realizations they put aside and will go down the trail with "new vigor, determination, and effort."

Outstanding seniors this year produced one of the finest graduating classes. Senior activities were climaxed by Senior Week, which included a dance at the Mayflower hotel, Akron, Ohio featuring Cal Dalton and his orchestra. In addition, there were innumerable informal parties and a banquet. Commencement activities took place June 7, 8.

• Whether you have a day . . . a week . . . or the whole summer for your vacation, you'll find more at Cedar Point for your complete enjoyment.

• Mark these days: June 13 through Labor Day. Then plan your vacation or week-end trips to include the "Point,"—most popular summer vacation spot on the Great Lakes. You'll feel refreshed and fit for the fast pace of today.

• Breakers Hotel, with its 1,000 outside rooms, overlooks Lake Erie . . . seven miles of smooth sandy beach just outside your door. An 18-hole golf course available to guests. Tennis . . . boating . . . riding . . . fishing. Tavern Terrace cocktail lounge . . . finest foods at moderate prices.

• Dance nightly to America's favorite "name" bands in the beautiful Grand Ballroom. New name bands each week. Be a "kid" again in the famous Amusement Circle. And remember, the family needs a vacation too. For complete information write for new vacation folder.

Easy on tires—Ohio Route 2, U. S. 6 midway between Cleveland and Toledo . . . Or bus and train to Sandusky . . . And lake steamer from Cleveland and Detroit.
